UNSETTLED LATIN AMERICA IS FERTILE FIELD FOR EXTREMISTS

There has been plenty of fireworks in Latin America since representatives of 21 American countries, including this one, signed the Bogota pact last April. The governments of Peru, Venezuela and El Salvador have been overthrown by revolution. There was an unsuccessful revolt in Paraguay. Costa Rica blames Nicaragua for its recent invasion. And plots were discovered against the present regimes in Chile, Bolivia, Panama and Ecuador.

The Bogota pact included a clause which provides for continuous diplomatic relations among the 21 signers in spite of changes in government. But the clause apparently did not specify that such changes had to be democratic. So now the U. S. government finds itself officially on good terms with governments set up by force and violence.

The State Department understandably does not like the situation. It has circulated a message among the Latin American governments which holds that rule by minorities and military cliques is dangerous, and which indirectly suggests a change in the policy of automatic recognition.

Non-recognition is a useful diplomatic weapon. Its absence has been called "a green light to political adventurers" by Rep. Robert Chipperfield, one of a House subcommittee which recently toured Latin America. This is probably true. But to return the weapon to the State Department might not help settle Latin American troubles.

The recent revolutions have not been all of a piece. In Venezuela a liberal government was ousted by a rightist group of militarists. But in El Salvador the deposed president wanted to form a constituent assembly to write a new constitution which would permit him to succeed himself. And the trouble in Costa Rica stems from the incumbent's refusal to yield to a newly-elected president.

But however different the reasons and confusing the whole picture, two constant factors, poverty and illiteracy, contribute to the political turbulence that so often afflicts Latin America.

In all the southern republics, and particularly in South America, a great deal of the wealth is in the hands of a very few people. The average citizen is badly fed, badly housed and badly educated. His political influence is as negligible as his wealth.

In such circumstances power is concentrated with money. Changes in government are usually brought about among the handful who really run the show. If a successful revolution is engineered by sincere democrats, as happened in the late Venezuelan government, then the people stand to benefit. If it is engineered by a Peron it is another story.

There is still a long row to hoe before democracy makes much real headway in Latin America. And the start must be in the social and economic field, not the political. Until democracy is really secure, Latin America will be a fertile breeding ground for communism or any other extreme political philosophy that is lavish with promises in its quest for power. As such, it will remain a source of potential danger to democracy throughout the hemisphere.

Fire Department
Makes Fast Time
In Test Alarms

The city fire department made test runs to buildings at two state institutions Wednesday morning, only two and one-half minutes elapsing in each instance until a pumper and crew pulled up at the destination ready to do business.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Brooks and Remick turned in alarms from the laundry building at the Illinois School for the Blind and Castle School for the Deaf. The deputy fire marshals, who are traveling instructors throughout the state, clocked the time of the run and observed the methods used in preparing to fight a mythical fire.

Time of the response was considered excellent despite icy streets and the fact that the big 12 cylinder American LaFrance pumper is carrying chains during the bad weather. Both institutions are a mile or more from the fire station.

A similar test was made to the Jacksonville State hospital several days ago.

Boyle's Column
'Any Messages For
Upstairs, Sir?'

By Hal Boyle
New York—(P)—The man had stayed late at his office. He sat alone, scratching moodily on a desk pad.
The pencil wrote:
"I hereby resolve in the coming new year to—"

The man got up, walked across the empty office to the water cooler, pressed the hot pedal. The water, as usual, splurted up and hit him in the face.
"Ahhhhhh!" the man said absent-mindedly. He walked back to his desk and began to scribble out his resolutions:
"To drink bigger glasses of water and smaller glasses of stuff that isn't water."
One Good New, Old Book
"To read one good new book and one good old book every month."
"To quit my job at my life."
"To quit selling to the kids."
"To quit getting to the office late."
"To take my wife out to dinner and an evening of fun at least once a week."
"To quit betting on horses."
"To save some money."
"To buy my wife a fur coat."
"To get eight hours of sleep every night."

And so the man wrote on until he had 25 resolutions written down. By then the moodiness had left his face, and he was smiling. He paused and looked over his work, and found it good.

"Not a bad list, if I do say so," he said smugly. "This would impress the recording angel himself—if I had a way to get it up to heaven."

Wild Idea Strikes Him
He looked at the buzzer on his desk and a wild fancy came into his mind.
"What if—" he mused. Then he made a wish, and pressed the buzzer. Immediately the door opened and in came a tall stern figure robed in white. He held a file of papers in his hands.
"Any messages for upstairs, sir?" asked the ghostly figure.
"Why, wh-wh-wh-who are you?" stammered the man at the desk.
"I'm the angel of truth, now on special assignment as messenger for the recording angel," said the figure. "Didn't you just wish for a messenger?"
"Yes," said the man, "but we don't usually get that kind of service in this office."

Monsignor O'Connor Appointed Bishop Of Springfield Diocese

Washington, Dec. 29—(AP)—The appointments of three new bishops in Illinois and creation of an additional diocese in the state were announced here last night by the Roman Catholic apostolic delegation for the Vatican.

The new diocese will be at Joliet with one of the new bishops serving there. The other bishops will serve at Springfield and Chicago.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin D. McNamara, pastor of St. Francis Xavier church at Wilmette, will become bishop at Joliet; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William A. O'Connor, supervisor of charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago, will become bishop at Springfield; and the Rev. William E. Cousins, pastor at St. Columbanus church, Chicago, will become titular bishop of forma and auxiliary to Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago.

Bishop-elect O'Connor succeeded bishop James A. Griffin who died last August. After his ordination to the priesthood in 1927, he went to Rome and the New York school of social work for graduate studies. At one time he was director of St. Mary's training school, an orphanage in the Chicago diocese, and became supervisor of charities for the archdiocese in 1938. He was born Dec. 27, 1903 in Chicago.

Bishop-elect McNamara was born in Chicago, May 12, 1898 and ordained to the priesthood in 1922. After his Chicago studies, he went to St. Mary's seminary in Baltimore and the Sulpician seminary of the Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C. He has been a chaplain for the Illinois National Guard.

Bishop-elect Cousins was ordained in 1927 and had served as an assistant at St. Bernard's church and Holy Name cathedral in Chicago before becoming a member of the Diocesan Missionary band. He was born in Chicago August 29, 1902. St. Raymond church at Joliet will be the cathedral of the new diocese, composed of DuPage, Will Grundy, Kane, Kane, Ford, Iroquois, and Kendall counties. The seven counties now are with the diocese of Rockford, the diocese of Peoria, and the archdiocese of Chicago.

New Stop Light Installed By White Hall Legion Post

White Hall — The White Hall American Legion post, through the cooperation of the city council and the Department of Public Safety, has had installed a stop light in White Hall on Highway 67, making a four-way stop at the intersection of Main and Sherman streets.

This project was undertaken in the interest of the children who must cross this intersection enroute to school. Child Welfare Chairman Hitch, together with a committee appointed by Commander McCarthy, met with the City Council, which gave the Legion committee power to act on the proposed stop sign. The committee met with Congressman Sid Simpson, who in turn arranged a meeting with officials of the Department of Public Safety. The situation was given thorough consideration before any decision was reached.

Marthajane Shaver Weds Frederick Gray

Couple Exchange Vows In Pretty Rites At Church

The marriage of Miss Marthajane Shaver and Frederick C. Gray was solemnized in a double-ring wedding ceremony performed at Grace Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. Frank Marston.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Shaver of Grand Island, Neb. Mr. Gray's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gray, 1203 Mound avenue.

Preceding and during the ceremony appropriate vocal selections were sung by Miss Jean Griswold of White Hall, "I Love Thee," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" were among the numbers sung. Organ accompaniment was provided by Miss Carmen Covey.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Henry of Quincy, Miss Carol Willmer of Grand Island served as bridesmaid. Robert E. Black of Milwaukee, Wis., was best man and Harlan Lee Williamson of this city acted as groomsmen. Ushers were Keith Stocker of Pittsburgh, Pa., Dick Mills of this city and Michael Pierce of Salina, Kans.

Wears Ivory Satin
The gown worn by the bride was of ivory satin, fashioned with a circular yoke of Venetian lace, sleeves tapering to points over the wrists and fitted bodice. The skirt featured a bustle back and long flowing train. The fingertip veil of illusion tulle fell from a Juliet cap knotted with pearls. A white orchid centered the bride's showered bouquet.

The bridal attendants wore jeweled satin gowns with draped bodices and bustle back. Mrs. Henry's gown was of angel blue, while Miss Willmer's gown was of dawn rose. Both wore headbands of matching tulle and seed pearls and opera gloves corresponding to the shades of their gowns. They carried colonial bouquets.

Joy French of this city and Ann Pierce of Salina, Kans., acted as flower girls. Their dresses were of white satin and tulle and were similar in design.

Reception Held at Church
A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. "Ave Maria" and "O Promise Me" were among the selections sung by Dick Mills.

Assisting with the serving were Mary Helen Wright, Marilynne Murphy, Shirley Zuckerman, Jacqueline McCoy and Mrs. R. K. Pierce, all friends of the bride.

The couple then left on a wedding trip, after which they will make their home in Jacksonville.

Illini Uses Reserves In Second Half, Still Swamps Colgate 77-54

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The University of Illinois basketball team tonight outclassed a small Colgate squad, 77-54. The Illini used reserves throughout much of the second half.

The Red Raiders put up a scrap early in the game, knocking the score four times in the first half, but faded long before the intermission.

Forward Bill Erickson flipped in 17 points and Dike Eddleman contributed ten in the first half to push the Illini out in front, 40-26 at midgame.

The Colgate squad, which was slow under the board and unable to grab the rebounds from the taller Illinois players, slipped further behind after the intermission and the Illini subs came pouring in.

Ernie Vandeweghe, a six foot three center with a variety of shots, was Colgate's mainstay, tallying 20 points to top the scoring for both teams. It was Illinois' seventh victory in

Nation Needs Another Man Like Bobby Jones To Bring Back Golf

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Wanted: Another Jones.

That might seem like asking for more snow in a blizzard, as the telephone books are full of Joneses, but this is a special deluxe variety of Jones. A Bobby Jones who would bring back to golf, and particularly to amateur golf, the feverish interest which the game engendered in the hey-day of the incomparable Atlantan.

We were reminded of the current rather apathetic attitude toward our golf champions when we watched a news reel of 1929 vintage. It showed Johnson Johnston receiving a hero's welcome in Minneapolis after his victory in the national amateur.

Johnson he managed to crack, if briefly, the monopoly that Jones held on the title, and naturally that feat alone was worthy of acclaim. Anyway, his homecoming was that which might be accorded a favorite son who won the battle of the bulge single handed.

Quickly now, who won the national amateur this year? Sure, Willie Turnesa, but you had to think a minute. And who won the British amateur? Another American, Frank Stranahan, but there were no blaring bands of keys to the city when he returned to New York.

The lack of general interest in the triumphs of Turnesa and Stranahan is no fault of theirs. It's just a sign of the times, and an example of how amateur golf fails to arouse the public as it once did.

The pros have taken over, and even their tournaments fail to create the interest they did, although the play, due to better equip-

Coaches Publish East-West Line-Up For Charity Game

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Coaches of the east and west all star football teams, after shuffling players for nearly two weeks, appeared today to have settled upon starting line-ups for the big charity game here New Year's Day.

The Eastern eleven that lines up for the kick-off before 60,000 fans, if sideline observers are correct now, will have speed and punch. To attain the strongest combination possible, east mentors Andy Kerr, Bernie Bierman and Tuss McLaughry, converted Columbia's great fullback of last season, Lou Kessow, into a right half.

The shift will permit the use in the same backfield of hard hitting Notre Dame fullback, John Panelli. The squad worked out twice today at Santa Clara.

Western coaches Jeff Cravath, "Dutch" Meyers and Ike Armstrong, likewise seemed about decided on their starting eleven. It will have a weight advantage over the east.

This is the way the teams are expected to line up for the start of the game:

Rose Bowl Rivals Practicing Hard

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Coach Bob Voigts of Northwestern switched operations today and decided to put his varsity through a defensive scrimmage practice for the game against California in the Rose Bowl.

Voigts reversed his strategy after previously announcing the team would work only against the blocking dummies. Apparently he thought at the time the Wildcats had gone through enough actual contact work.

Plans were even more intense at the California training camp at nearby Riverside, where Coach Lynn Waldorf scheduled a full dress scrimmage, complete with staff aides manning yard sticks.

At least reports, the California squad was in good physical shape, although fullback Jackie Jensen has been stepping lightly on a slightly damaged toe.

The condition of the throwing arm of quarterback Don Burson of Northwestern remained open to question, but no one around the squad seemed too worried that a soreness would seriously hamper his passing. Voigts emphasized that Burson would start the game.

His defensive drill brought conjectures, too, and there were inklings that he suspects Waldorf may throw a few surprises at him New Year's Day.

Skies were clear and the air brisk again today at both training camps.

Oregon Picked To Win Cotton Bowl Contest

Dallas, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Everyone agrees that Saturday's Cotton Bowl football game between Oregon and Southern Methodist will bring plenty of scoring but although general opinion favors S.M.U. to do most of it, this writer is picking Oregon to win.

Oregon's 10 pound edge in weight and two year margin in age combined with Norm Van Brocklin's superb passing may serve to upset Southern Methodist despite the presence of All-America Doak Walker. A wild guess at the score would be 21-18.

In local betting circles today, however, S.M.U. is favored by 61 points. Workouts were light today and will continue so. The weather was crisp and clear, with perfect conditions indicated New Year's Day.

Coaches Matty Bell of Southern Methodist and Jim Aiken of Oregon vied with each other in gloomy predictions.

"S.M.U. has never won a bowl game," said Bell. "Anybody can score against us. We've never faced any one like Van Brocklin. I don't think we can hold them down—but I don't think they can hold us down."

"Actually we don't look good," reported Aiken. "Although I must admit we had a good ball team at the end of the season. Our line doesn't look good at all. With Doak Walker and Gil Johnson we will have our hands full."

Georgia Works Hard For Win In Orange Bowl

Miami, Fla., Dec. 2.—(AP)—You may be one of those who think a football team and its coach are blasé about bowls after playing in five of them in seven years.

If you are and you're thinking of the Georgia Bulldogs and Coach Wally Butts, then you're wrong. Newspapermen who followed Georgia to the Orange, Rose, Oil, Sugar and Gator, and now are in Miami for the second Orange Bowl, say Butts is working Georgia harder than ever before.

During the four days since the Southeastern Conference champions arrived in Miami Beach they have scrimmaged three times. The Texas team, which arrived today, is a nightmare in orange and white to Georgia and Wally Butts.

During scrimmages Butts continually mumbles, "I don't see how you guys can hope to beat Texas."

After a bad play Butts kneels in the huddle restirning hopelessly with his hands. He says, "You just haven't got it. You ain't got it."

No one has been seriously injured during the series of scrimmages but there are plenty of bloody noses, torn lips and lumps. The practices aren't of the "touch football" variety.

Quarterbacking passers Johnny Rauch and Ray Prosser during one workout threw continually for 45 minutes to Ends Weyman Sellers, Gene Lorenzo, Bob Walston and several others.

East All-Stars 7-Point Favorite To Defeat West

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The latest odds on the Jan. 1 football bowl games show that North Carolina and Missouri have gained slightly in favor while William and Mary and Nevada have lost some respect.

In the first quotation on the Shrine game at San Francisco, the east all-stars are rated a 7-point favorite over the west stars.

The odds (changes noted in parenthesis):
Rose Bowl—Northwestern 61 over California.

Sugar Bowl—North Carolina 22 points over Oklahoma (odds ten days ago had N. C. 11-point choice).
Cotton Bowl—S.M.U. 61 over Oregon.

Orange Bowl—Georgia 7 over Texas.
Gator Bowl—Missouri 71 over Clemson (formerly 7).

Delta Bowl—William and Mary 61 over Oklahoma A. and M. (formerly 6).
Dixie Bowl—Baylor 6 over Wake Forest.

Harbor Bowl—Nevada 1 point over Villanova (formerly Nevada 3).
Oregon.

BUS COMPANY AND CAFE EMPLOYEES AT CHRISTMAS DINNER

Employees of the Elm City Bus Lines and the Froste Creme cafe joined in a Christmas party last Friday evening at the cafe on North Main street, where a chicken dinner was served. More than 20 employees of the two companies were in attendance.

The guests exchanged gifts, and spent the latter part of the evening dancing.

Markets at a Glance

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Stocks—Higher; leaders rally. Bonds—Quiet; leads recover slightly.
Cotton—Steady; mill buying.

Corn—Mostly a little higher; cash houses mostly.

Jacksonville, Pawnee Play For First Place In Tourney Tonight

Finals Tonight
Pittsfield vs. Kincaid (consolation)

Jacksonville vs. Pawnee (championship)

Bob Mirus' Pawnee tribe staged the second upset in the local holiday tourney last night when they dumped the number one rated Pittsfield Saukees by a 53 to 44 margin.

Jacksonville high school had a lot of trouble in whipping the surprising little quint from Kincaid 34 to 27 in the other semi-final bout.

The Saukees grabbed an early lead in the initial contest. With Rich Zimmerman, Pittsfield pivot man, taking practically every rebound that came off the boards, the Pike county crew jumped out in front 8 to 4 in the first quarter.

Pawnee Uses Fast Break
Then, the speedy Pawnee cagers changed their tactics. Whereas in the first canto they had played a slow type of ball, trying to sink long shots over the Pittsfield zone defense, they began to fast break the Saukees dizzy in the second frame, and edged into a 22 to 20 lead at halftime.

Zimmerman fouled out of the contest immediately after the second half opened. However, he was not noticeably missed by the Pittsfield five, in the third quarter as they managed to battle it out on even terms with Pawnee, but still trailed by two points going into the last period.

Score 20 Points In Last Frame
Possessing only a 33 to 31 lead with eight minutes of play remaining, the Pawnee Indians turned on some torrid basketball to pile up 20 markers in the last canto, and sweep on to a 53 to 44 win over the more highly-favored Pike county crew.

Sisk and Edge paced the winners with 16 and 14 tallies apiece. Dell was high for Pittsfield with 12 points.

The Kincaid Ponies, who hadn't won a ball game this year until they bumped off Notre Dame of Quincy in the first round Tuesday night, kept up their surprising brand of play and almost staged a second upset over the number 2 rated local Orson quintet.

Spotts Fails To Connect
Stan Spotts, who was the main factor in the locals' win over Villaville Tuesday night, couldn't buy a basket against the high-riding Kincaid outfit. He hit for only one fielder all night. Dave Bussey and Rolyn Trotter kept the Krashtan coached crew in the game with some timely shooting.

The fracas started very slowly with Kincaid attempting to stall the Crimsions out of the ball game in much the same manner that proved successful in the Notre Dame melee. Trotter and Bussey stole the ball and drove down the court to rally once each in the initial canto, while Spotts netted some free throws to give the locals a 7 to 4 lead in the first frame.

Depelo Leads Kincaid Rally
Depelo, Pony center, led a Kincaid rally in the second canto, to bring the underdogs within two tallies of the Crimsions at the close of the first half. Jacksonville forged into a 25 to 19 lead in the third frame, with Trotter and Bussey still carrying the load for the local quint.

The Jacks managed to hang on to enough of their lead to win the contest 34 to 27, and the right to tangle with Pawnee in the finals tonight.

Gerald Bussey was high for the Jacksonville crew with 13 points while Depelo scored a like number for Kincaid.

SWISS HAVE SPY TROUBLE Lausanne, Switzerland (AP)—The Swiss are worried about spies operating in Switzerland in the guise of foreign students. Edmont Jaquet, head of the police department of the Canton of Vaud, told the cantonal assembly recently that the 5,000 foreigners studying at Swiss universities were known to include spies and agents detailed by foreign governments to watch fellow students and refugees. Jaquet declared that a special watch would have to be kept on "possible agents of totalitarian regimes" among foreign students, in the interests of "the preservation of Swiss democratic institutions."

Beware of Romance

By Roberto Courtland

Copyright by Grosvenor Pub. Co. Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: When sixteen-year-old Merry Carson learns that her dashing father, Kin, has asked her selfish mother, Susan, for a divorce, her whole world turns topsy-turvy. Kin leaves home and Susan goes to pieces. Aunt Jane comes to look after things. The doctor tells Merry her mother needs a change and suggests they take her to St. Vincent's, an island resort. At the hotel in St. Vincent's, Susan meets a man who awakens Susan's interest in something outside herself.

XI THAT Aunt Jane had already taken steps about finding a cottage was made plain the next morning when she, Susan and Merry emerged from the dining room shortly before nine, and a plump, middle-aged, neatly brushed man came forward to greet them.

"I understand that you are looking for a cottage," he said pleasantly. "Permit me to introduce myself—I'm Carter Bagby, realtor. I have several properties, one of which I feel quite sure would interest you, if I could have the pleasure of showing them."

Aunt Jane studied him sharply. Carter Bagby's faded blue eyes behind horn-rimmed spectacles were on Susan's face with a look of interest that made Susan's eyes widen and brought a faint trace of color to her cheeks.

"What sort of place did you have in mind, Mrs. Carson?" he addressed Aunt Jane politely. "I'm Mrs. Carson," said Susan stiffly. "This is my cousin, Miss Jane Randall. And my daughter, Merry Carson."

Mr. Bagby shook hands all around and said in a tone of surprise, "Your daughter? Why, I would have taken her for your sister, Mrs. Carson."

"Of all the corny gags!" Merry chanting view of surrounding woods, with the silver blue glimmer of the sea beyond. And azure were barked about the house, like soft flames against the creamy-white stucco.

Without a word he waited for their comments. And since the place was really enchanting, their comments were flattering and excited. Even Susan was eager as Mr. Bagby helped her gracefully out of the station wagon, brought out keys and unlocked the front door.

BEFORE they had more than peered into the huge living room, with its beautiful fireplace and carved mantel, or glimpsed the three large bedrooms, each with its own bath, the compact yet superbly efficient kitchen, the long living room, with the glass wall that looked out over a walled-in garden and that could be pushed open to bring the garden inside, they knew they would take it.

Susan was bright-eyed, and there was a little color in her cheeks. "I can't imagine anybody wanting to sell such a place, Mr. Bagby—it's simply lovely," said Susan eagerly.

"The owner doesn't want to sell, Mrs. Carson. Oh, I don't mean that the place isn't for sale. It is. I only mean that he is being forced to sell. He fell in love with the place while it was still in the blueprint stage, and—well, his money gave out and now he has to sell it."

Aunt Jane was watching him shrewdly, and suddenly she asked dryly, "Who is the owner, Mr. Bagby?" And Mr. Bagby said quietly, "I am, Miss Randall."

"And what are you asking for it?" Aunt Jane's voice was dry.

Mr. Bagby stiffened ever so little and his gray eyes grew wary. "Seventeen thousand five hundred," he answered, and his tone now was completely business like. "Ouch!" said Aunt Jane, and whistled under her breath.

"I think it's very reasonable," said Susan crisply. "We'll take it, Mr. Bagby."

Many Morgan Farmers Seal '48 Corn Crop

Series Of Annual Soil Board Meets Set For February

J. T. Whelan, district soil conservationist, announced Wednesday that Melville Cohee, of the regional soil conservation office, Milwaukee, will be the speaker at a series of annual meetings to be held in this district during February.

His subject will be "Land and People."

Mr. Cohee will address the Menard county group on Monday afternoon, Feb. 14, the Morgan county district Tuesday afternoon; the Greene county annual meeting Tuesday night, the Scott county meeting Wednesday afternoon and the Cass county district Thursday afternoon, Feb. 17.

Mr. Cohee is acknowledged one of the most forceful speakers on the need of conserving the nation's wealth. Mr. Whelan said the annual meetings were arranged in the single week in order that he might be heard by members in each of the five counties.

Applications for corn loans are coming into the AAA office at a lively clip. County Chairman Wallace T. Hembrough reported Wednesday. Requests for loans now total 212.

Many more are expected next week, particularly from those farmers who want to seal their corn at the $1.42 loan price but who did not wish to have the additional income falling in the 1948 tax year.

Some wet corn has been found. Nineteen cribs were rejected by inspectors who found the grain carrying excess water. This was mainly true in wide cribs.

Mr. Hembrough observed that farmers who wish to complete loans or purchase agreements on wheat, oats or soybeans have just two days to do so. The deadline on these crop loans is Dec. 31. Corn loans and purchase agreements may be arranged up to June 30.

Only one Morgan county farmer secured a corn loan, at 71c a bushel. There are 109 loans on wheat, seven for soybeans stored in warehouses and four for soybeans stored on the farm.

Practices approved for individual farms must be completed by Dec. 31 and evidence of performance must be returned to the county office by Jan. 14. Mr. Hembrough said. Application of limestone and rock phosphate are again the most popular practices.

The township and county committees will choose practices for 1949 at a meeting to be held in Jacksonville on Jan. 7. Harold Keele of Carlinville, new fieldman for this area, will be here to discuss the new program with the committeemen.
